Renegade Celebrates the Holidays at Metropolitan Pavilion

[New York, NY] Renegade Craft Fair, the world's foremost curated showcase of independent craft and design, returns to Metropolitan Pavilion on November 18 + 19 from 11:00 a.m to 6:00 p.m with a festive weekend celebration of all things handmade. Carefully curating top independent maker talent from across the national and international stage, Renegade New York is the foremost holiday destination for one-of-a-kind, beautifully crafted items ideal for gift-giving. The event will showcase local food vendors, DJ sets, interactive features, DIY workshops, art installations, and more, redefining the modern handcrafted marketplace into an immersive modern lifestyle experience.

Visitors will have the opportunity to browse through an exceptional array of modern design, including jewelry and accessories, art, apparel, ceramics, illustration, stationery, home decor, cookware, apothecary, and more. Embracing a philosophy of openness and inclusivity, Renegade Craft Fair is free to attend, and will showcase the latest trends and craft styles from around the globe. The fair presents attendees with a wide range of interactive activities including photo booths, art installations, DIY workshops, demonstrations, and giveaways, to make the event a fun and engaging outing for the whole family.

The fair brings together exciting players from the local NY food scene and features an array of street eats encouraging visitors to take a break from shopping, enjoy a quick bite, and partake in a variety of workshops and interactive features.

Celebrating the excitement of the independent craft community, Renegade works with like-minded brands, local players, and innovative companies to bring bespoke experiences, interactive elements, and entertaining features to each fair, and is proud to announce the New York debut of Design Milk Spotlight showcasing the work of one exceptional modern designer in collaboration with the renown digital publication.

About Renegade Craft Fair

Founded in Chicago in 2003, Renegade was the first event of its kind. Expanding gradually, city-by-city, RCF has evolved into the widespread and influential presence it is today, continuously championing the global indie-craft movement. Showcasing promising emerging and established Makers, and aiming to create vibrant and lively marketplaces that both reflect and illuminate the work of today's best and brightest talents, RCF is the farthest reaching craft showcase in the world and attracts 300,000 attendees annually across multiple events in 12 major cities in the U.S. and U.K., including Chicago, New York, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Austin, Portland, Seattle, Denver, Miami, Boston, Detroit, and London.
